Kittredge Opens the Debate with a Long Speech for Sea Level.

Washington, May 28.—The senate today sent the railroad rate bill to conference, listened to a long defense by Kittredge of the sea level canal and three democratic speeches on a resolution relating to the purchase of canal supplies in foreign markets and devoted the remainder of the time to the postoffice appropriation bill.

No objection was made to the appointment of ranking members of the interstate commerce committee as a conferees on the rate bill, and they were not instructed in any manner. They are Elkins, Cullom and Tillman.

Consideration of the Panama supply resolution was interfered with by the canal type bill, which was laid before the senate at 2 oclock. Kittredges speech was the first on this subject and was listened to with great interest.

The postoffice bill was read partially for committee amendments.

The municipal council of Colon held session yesterday at which the following was adopted:

FIRED THEM TO THE HOUSE

Absent Members Brought in to Make a Quorum at Session.

Washington, May 28.—Early in the session of the house today, Williams of Mississippi, the floor leader of the minority, made points of no quorum and it took a call of the house to start the wheels of legislation.

After the appearance of a quorum the house concurred in amendments made by the senate to a number of house bills. The house then resolved itself into a "city council" for consideration of bills relating to the District of Columbia.

The compulsory educational bill for the district occupied most of the day in its consideration, the bill being finally placed on its passage.

On a division the absence of quorum was disclosed. Mr. Williams of Mississippi, not desiring to raise a point, moved the house adjourn. Payne of New York made a similar motion. "I am perfectly willing the motion should come from that side of the chamber," said Mr. Williams. But the motion did not prevail, the republicans voting in the negative. Williams then made a point of no quorum and a call of the house ensued, yeas and nays being called on the passage of the compulsory educational bill.

The sergeant-at-arms and his assistants started on the round of the hotels and other residences of members, and one by one members reported. Hedge of Iowa, after having voted, made a parliamentary inquiry. "Is this compulsory education," he asked, which created a round of laughter.

On the appearance of Grosvenor of Ohio, Williams, in facetious vein, stated that a rule of the house compelled an explanation.

Grosvenor replied that his presence was the best explanation. At 3:45 a quorum was obtained, two hours having been consumed in the effort.

Williams of Mississippi stated that for the first time in the life of this congress a strict rule of house had been put in operation as to bringing members before the bar under arrest and as there seemed to be some misunderstanding in relation to the rule he asked the unanimous consent that the whole matter of making of the quorum be stricken from the record. Mr. Payne objected, and the house at 7:40 adjourned until tomorrow.

"I at once declare my determination to retire absolutely from political life, continuing only as loyal and sincere friend of Venezuelans, and serving as a tie of union between them."

Aragua Begs Him.

On the same day Castro attended a national celebration at Victoria, province of Aragua, where the masses besought him to recall his manifesto and continue in presidency. Castro replied:

"When all citizens of the republic think and request as do the noble people of Aragua I shall gladly return to the federal capitol."

This incident has occassioned no excitement, the general opinion being that Castro holds threads of the situation and will after a while resume the presidency.

Mr. Henry is a relative of the late Adam Bowersock, the man who was killed by Thad Guerrey.

Mayor Schmitz' letter was made public at the White House today. That portion referring to the federal troops, is as follows:

"Let me at this time say a word for the United States troops. Just after the earthquake, on the morning of April 18th, 1906, United States troops stationed here were put under control of the municipal authorities by General Funston. He acted nobly, and with General Greely who took charge a few days later, has exemplified the stamina for which the members of our army ever have been noted, and, exhibited an ability to cope, under any and all circumstances, successfully with great emergencies. I can not speak in too high praise of the magnificent help given the municipal authorities by the United States troops stationed here, or too highly of the indefatigable work and I might say devoted assistance of Major General Greely and General Funston. Mr. President, as an American citizen, I am proud to be able to certify to their work, and I am proud that we have men of such caliber."

SCULPTOR BARTLETT EXPLAINS.

Tells Why the Lafayette Statue Has Not Yet Been Set Up.

Paris, May 28.—The Paris press is filled with complaints these days because Paul Bartlett's statue of Lafayette, intended for the Place Carrousel, beside the Louvre, has not yet been set up.

The sculptor explained why today. He said he made several casts, none of which fully satisfied his artistic conscience, and he would not have any of them on a pedestal. So he is at work on still another figure, smaller than any of the others, which he thinks will be suitable for the purpose—one of the choicest in Paris. He hopes to have this figure completed before another year and if it passes muster it will be cast in bronze.

The newspaper attacks have touched with no sparing hand on the money side of the question. Bartlett replies that he has already spent $16,000 of his own money on the work, but hopes to be fully reimbursed.

THE MILITIA OF MINNESOTA.

Will Not Join Regulars for Encampment This Summer.

Washington, May 28.—Minnesota has declined to accept the invitation of the national government, extended through Assistant Secretary Oliver, to send militia to camp with regular troops this summer. The governor of Minnesota says in his letter that the proposed participation of state troops is impracticable for the reason that few members of the national guard can spare more time than ten days for an encampment and as half of that time would be consumed in getting to and from camp, the expenditure would not be justified by results.

LARGE DAM BREAKS AND SWEEPS FIVE MEN TO DEATH

The flood was caused by the breaking of a large dam in Pole Creek canyon, three miles above the sheep shearing corral of the Golconda Cattle company. When it struck the sheep shearing corral there were a number of men at work and all of these were carried away by the flood. Not a building or fence of the Golconda Cattle company was left standing.

MEMORIAL DAY AND ITS TEACHINGS

Wednesday is Memorial day and as usual it will be observed under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic the remnant of the valiant band who fought for the preservation of the union in the sixties There is an added significance to the beautiful customs of Memorial day with each returning year As the list of those who have sacrificed unto death for a principle becomes fewer in number the deeper grows the interest in the hearts of a grateful people

Memorial day was first observed by the thinking in the sense of a holiday when in reality it is a day to take stock of the best attributes of our natures

It is the day when nation stops to think of the heroic dead who have fallen and to renew the vows registered on the graves of the soldier dead to cherish the institutions and patriotism

There will there fortunately be exercises to be a profusion of flowers for decorating the graves

The exercises will be held at the Powers Grand opera house and the address of the day will be delivered by W J Bryan After the exercises the citizens will march to the cemetery and there pay their tribute to the dead

Every patriotic citizen should devote a portion of the day to the service

In the forenoon the veterans will visit the schools and address the children

Cadets to Escort G A R

Companies A and B of the I I S will assemble at their headquarters in the Court house armory at 1 o'clock this morning The Cadets will then march to the G A R hall from where they will escort the veterans to the First Christian church for the memorial services which will be addressed by the Rev J I Thompson

BRAVE SOLDIERS FIGHT THE BATTLES

It will be well to read in the public schools the part that the boys in blue have played in the history of this country He would know us and will like we would wish us to fail to trace in the lives of the American citizens the lessons of the conflict and to let the story of the sacrifices of our soldiers be one of the cherished traditions of the schools

Let us not forget that this day is for the decoration of graves but may it not be the occasion of the reading of the names of heroes and of the recital of the deeds of valor which have made the common soldier in time of war the foundation stone of the freedom of the world

Let us not forget that the soldiers of the civil war are fast passing away and that the ranks of the veterans are thinning out Let us not forget that the widows of the soldiers are passing away and that the children are fast growing to manhood and womanhood

In his alarm he ran to his [illegible] window thinking to leap, but thanks [illegible] presence of mind, concluded that [illegible] such leap would result as disastrous [illegible] to remain and go down with [illegible] falling building. The Pekin Indians affect to have been defeated a wheen bit, anyway.

Impaired alcohol is bridging its way to the free and the Standard Oil trust is watching its progress with considerable concern.

Stanley Bachr apparently does not like the line of bosh dispensed from that body. He has made a protest that one of the supreme court justices advised upon his nomination a few days to sell all other issues. "Be Set Us" is probably asking for a good deal.

SHALL WE TRY IT AGAIN?

It is speech in the national house of representatives Dalzell said: We are a great protected people. We found our mills idle and out of hopes but in the shining light of open markets and free trade we have set them all a-going and the cause of industrial activity and wages for workingmen and God help the men of the party that would put out these fires, silence the cause of that noise and send the welcome home to a hungry household." This is all very well but the time is not far distant when the workmen themselves will again listen to the voice of false teachers with false theories, and vote to put out the fires. Already murmurings are heard, and the question is being asked "Shall we try it again?" That question will finally be answered in the affirmative. Why not?

The workman as a consumer is told that the cost of living is too great, that under a different system he can buy his shoes, hats, cars, clothing, cheaper. This will be drummed into him until he is convinced that he is being robbed. The tempter never calls his attention to the fact that under different conditions he would be compelled to furnish the product of his own hand cheaper and, if he had work at all, his wages must be reduced. The farmer will get line upon line and wind from every quarter to show him that the prices of the things he buys is eating into his profits and he will be again induced to strike out for cheaper necessaries of life produced outside the farm, but he will not be told by the reformers that when the conditions are produced, by a low tariff, that will enable him to buy cheaper, his home market will be gone and his products will have to rot or be sold for a song. The time will come when the farmer will be turning over in his mind the question: "Shall we try it again?" It will look so reasonable that he will finally make the plunge.

Everything was prosperous in 1892, yet in the midst of it men of every calling struck out to save more profits by voting to cheapen the other fellow's profits, and all fell into the ditch together. Things did become cheaper; but everybody's products became cheaper at the same time and nobody profited except the lawyers, the sheriffs, money lenders and the European nations that invaded our markets with their wares.

Hats, caps and clothing were somewhat cheaper. Farm machinery was a little cheaper, but farms and hogs and cattle and horses and mules and wheat and oats went to the bottom and much of the grain rotted for want of a market.

Those reformers who present the new theory for the relief of the people do not expect to "put out the fires and silence the music of industry." They did not expect to do it in 1892, but they did. Their theory in practice never failed to put out the American fires and still the hum of American industries. Yet they continue to hang to the delusion and really believe it will work the other way the next time. It is the most refreshing theory ever based upon delusion. It appeals to prejudice smoothly and it is only a matter of time when enough people will accept it to give it another trial. One of the peculiar things about it is that it never commands attention except in times of prosperity.

BARGAIN COUNTER TRAGEDIES.

Several days ago Frederick Rundy of Lacrosse, Wis. was caught in an apparent attempt to commit suicide. Mrs. Rundy, his wife, had visited a bargain counter and purchased a skirt that had been marked down to $1.25. It looked to the good wife like a bargain and she bought it. When she returned to her home happy with her purchase and told her husband about it he flew into a rage and seizing a revolver rushed out of the house, exclaiming as he went "This is the last straw! This is too much!" meaning, no doubt, that it was more than he could bear.

Mrs. Rundy raised an alarm, and neighbors disarmed Rundy after he had fired one shot and missed and was about to fire another, which might also have missed. Speaking of this event the Inter Ocean suggests that we may have other incidents and may read, a few days hence:

Mrs. Josephine Watson had purchased three pairs of socks for her husband at yesterday's bargain sale, having 9 cents to the bit. Returning home radiant with happiness, she displayed her husband of her purchase. Just as she was telling him that she would have to pay at least 27 cents for the three pairs on an ordinary day at one of the upstairs counters, he seized a carving-knife which was lying on the kitchen table, and rushed from the house, exclaiming: "Oh, that I should have lived to see this day! I will end it all!" Fortunately neighbors wrested the weapon from his hands after he had cut the three toes without doing himself any injury.

Mrs. Harriet Thompkins went down to the basement sale yesterday and purchased four pairs of suspenders, five collars, seven odd cuffs, three string neckties, and an outing shirt for her husband, the entire lot costing her 82 cents. While down there she saw an elegant corset cover, slightly damaged, a dozen napkins, some stuff for the children's dresses, a pair of pants one size too large for her little son Edward, but which will be just right for him next spring, and some other bargains in which she invested $1.84. Returning home after an eventful and happy day she spread the purchases out on the floor to surprise and please her husband. The moment he saw them he went into a rage. Picking up a loaded shot gun which was lying on the dresser, he rushed from the house, exclaiming: "This is more than I can endure! I have been expecting it, and it has come! Farewell, false one! Farewell, home! Farewell, life!" A crowd of neighbors, fortunately, succeeded in wresting the weapon from his hands after he had emptied both barrels into the hen coop.

Our turn:

Mrs. George Witherforce Watson-Thompson attended the bargain sale yesterday, purchasing for $92.56 a summer skirt which had been marked $75.75 during the early part of the week. Returning to her palatial home full of satisfaction over the success of her shopping tour, she triumphantly exhibited her purchase to her husband, expecting naturally, that he too, would be delighted. Great was her consternation however when he flew into a violent rage, seized a machine gun which was standing next to the attorney in the sitting room, and, rushing through the door exclaimed: "This is the end of it! My life insurance premium and a new skirt on the same day! Ha, ha!" Fortunately, neighbors attracted by Mrs. Watson-Thompson's screams succeeded in wresting the machine gun from the hands of the desperate man after he had mowed the shingles off his new barn.

It is too bad that examples are followed so generally in this country, and that the examples that are most generally followed should be those that ought to be shunned by emotional men.

THE PRESBYTERIANS.

The somewhat remarkable meeting of the Cumberland Presbyterians in this city and the Presbyterians in Des Moines, Ia., which resulted in a reunion between the two bodies, brings up the subject of Presbyterian organizations in this country. The separation was originally due to the great revival of religion in Kentucky and Tennessee from 1797 to 1801 in which Methodist ministers were a factor. So many new congregations were formed as a result of that religious awakening that the Presbyterians, under the rules requiring that ministers of that church must have a liberal education, could not supply sufficient pastors of proper qualifications for the new organizations. The Cumberland presbytery, to meet the emergency, ordained a number of men of approved piety, but without liberal education, and authorized them to dissent from certain points of the Westminster confession. The synod of Kentucky refused to recognize these ministers and was sustained by the general assembly and finally dissolved the Cumberland presbytery in 1806. The dissenters, or rather those who had done the best they could to supply themselves with pastors, organized an independent presbytery, which grew into the Cumberland synod and a general assembly adopting the Westminster confession with certain modifications of the extreme Calvanistic positions on election and reprobation. The new church spread through the south and southwest and in Tennessee and Missouri.

There is also a southern branch of the Presbyterian church which set up for itself as a result of the Civil war. The numerical strength of these three branches of the church are, approximately: "Northern", 1,115,662; southern, 246,769; Cumberland, 185,786.

The reunion will not add to the northern Presbyterians all its membership on account of the loyalist contingent that refuses to go with the union and which proposes to continue the organization known as Cumberland Presbyterians. The union was made possible by the recent modification of the Westminster confession eliminating those objectionable features that the original Cumberland presbytery and finally the church of that name objected to one hundred years ago, so that these differences have practically disappeared and there remains no further reason for the two organizations.

LEGENDS OF HIAWATHA.

Various Tribes Have One Story Under Different Names.

Different versions of the Hiawatha legends are found among nearly all the Indian tribes. In his attributes the Indian hero closely resembles the demi-gods of the Grecian myths, who slew evil monsters to deliver their oppressed people.

The principal legend according to a writer in the Craftsman, relates that Nokomis, daughter of the Moon, was swinging a rope of twisted grape vines, surrounded by her women, when one of them out of jealousy cut the vine and she fell to the earth, where a daughter whom she warned against Mudj-kee-wis, the West Wind. But one day the West Wind found the maiden lying among the lilies and he wooed her with such sweet words and soft caress that she forgot the warnings of her mother. She bore him a son, Hiawatha, and then, because the West Wind forgot her, she died. Hiawatha, who is known among the different tribes as Michabou, Chiabo, Monobozo and Tarenyawagon was reared by his grandmother Nokomis. She taught him to understand the voices of the woods and waters, and told him the legends, which he in turn gave to all the Indians. These legends tell how the Aurora Borealis is the Death Dance of the Spirits, the brilliant lights being the plumes and war clubs of the warriors, that the Milky Way is the broad white road of the ghosts through the sky, and that the rainbow is composed of the flowers that have perished upon the earth.

Hiawatha passed much of his time alone in the woods, where he learned the language of birds and beasts, and played so sweetly on his flute that they would follow him wherever he went.

PANAMA MEN WILL ARRIVE

Steamer Alliance Brings a Commission to America.

Colon, May 27. The steamer Alliance, which sailed tonight for New York, had as passengers Pablo Arosemena, vice president of Panama; Dr. Borras, Dr. Eusebio Morales and General Domingo Diaz, forming a commission representing the liberal party to Washington to confer with Secretary Taft and solicit the intervention of the United States to prevent fraudulent voting in the coming elections for the Panaman assembly. The Liberals say they will be able to sweep the country if the elections are honest.

Dream the Dark Away.

The night looks lonesome
An' long till the day,
But—of you conscience lets you,
You kin dream the dark away.

The rough road, believers,
Will end before you know;
Rain that falls so dreary
Makes the daisies grow.

An' when the light comes streamin'
All the way along,
You'll hear the heart o' sorrow
Beatin' time to song.

FRED PICKUS BADLY HURT

Miner Perhaps Fatally Crushed in Decatur Coal Shaft.

Fred Pickus, 1403 East Orchard street, was caught by a car in the new shaft of the Decatur Coal Co. at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and crushed almost to death. Three ribs were broken, his shoulder severely wrenched and internal injuries sustained which may cause his death.

He was driving a mule car and attempted to pass through a narrow entrance, which was screened by a curtain. Reaching for the curtain his arm caught and the car crushed him against the side of the shaft.

He was taken to his home in Moran's ambulance. Dr. Wilhelmy was called and attended to the external wounds but was uncertain about the outcome as the body was severely bruised and crushed.

Pickus would have undoubtedly have been mangled beyond recognition had his arm been caught just a little lower down, but as it was when the strain came the hold was broken, resulting in his life being saved.

DIED FIVE YEARS AGO

At Leavenworth Wm. Hardy Enlisted in United States Army.

SENT TO MANILA

Where He Died Six Months Later.

Nine years ago William Hardy left Decatur, and since that time nothing has ever been heard from him or about him. He was at that time about 21 years old. Recently his brother, John C. Hardy of this city, wrote to the secretary of war, asking for information, saying his brother was believed to have enlisted in the army and to have been sent to the Philippines. That was a guess on John Hardy's part, but he says that he could not understand why his brother would be absent all these years and no word come from him if he was alive.

Yesterday he received a reply from the war department saying that William Hardy enlisted at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., April 26, and was sent to Manila, where he died September 20, 1899. He was serving as a member of Company D, Sixteenth Infantry, at the time of his death.

When he enlisted, answering the form required by the army regulations, young Hardy requested that in case of an emergency H. G. Durham of Hueston, Ia., should be notified. H. G. Durham was his brother-in-law and that was his home at the time the young man enlisted. No message concerning his illness or his death was ever received from the department.

In connection with the death of this young man a curious statement is made. Although he was practically of age when he left Decatur he had been living in St. Louis with an older brother, Michael Hardy, and they had never met. The St. Louis man had grown to man's estate and gone out in the world before the younger brother was born, and although they were comparatively near, as distance is considered in these days, they had never met.

GIVES LAST OF SERIES

Rev. W. J. Davidson Concludes Sermons on the Lord's Prayer.

The morning service of the First Methodist church was the last of the series of seven sermons preached by Rev. W. J. Davidson on the subject Lord's prayer. The clause of the prayer chosen as his text was: "Lead us not into temptation." The morning audience was smaller than usual.

The evening sermon was preached from the text: "Remember this day." The evening audience was larger than the morning.

GERMANS MEETING.

Special to the Herald.

Quincy, May 27.—The annual meeting of the state federation of German Catholic societies is now in session in this city, having begun to and will continue over Monday, May 28.

About 250 delegates representing the Deutscher Katolischer Vereinsbund of Illinois, in which every city of any prominence in the state is interested, are present. Bishop Janssen of Belleville, the spiritual head of the organization and whose title is that of Protector, is in the city, the guest of Dean Weis of the St. Boniface church. The purpose of the organization is to promote the interests of Catholicism.

An executive committee composed of Bishop Janssen, F. Heckenkamp, Recording Secretary G. H. Rice of East St. Louis, and Financial Secretary William Kapp of Springfield met in St. Boniface church tonight to appoint committees and complete arrangements for the Monday session.

Today a spectacular parade was given and the major portion of the city's business houses will be decorated to honor the visitors to this city.

STEAD GIVES OPINION.

Special to the Herald.

Springfield, May 27.—Attorney General Stead today has given out an opinion in which he holds that all United States treasury notes and other government currency is subject to taxation. The opinion says that the act of August 31, 1894 released the exemption on this sort of property and makes it taxable in Illinois.

ROSS GOES OVER THE ROAD

Man Who Tried to Burglarize Ottenheimer's Store Is Found Guilty.

SMALL BOYS ARE UP

Raiders of Peaceful Valley Get Off Easy.

Robert Ross was tried in the circuit court Thursday and was found guilty of attempted robbery. He is the man who was caught trying to break into the back of the Ottenheimer store. He smashed a glass in the back door with a brick, but was caught by the police before he got away with any of the goods.

Attorney W. J. Dickinson appeared to defend Ross. The jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of guilty, and Ross must go to the penitentiary. The jury before which the case was tried was composed of John Epler, W. H. Martin, R. Scribner, D. F. Riddell, A. K. Widdick, O. H. Quickel, Earl Garver, E. E. Large, James Berry, O. H. Prather, S. Roberts, L. E. Harrington and William Alder.

Two Plead Guilty.

William Ethridge, who was charged with burglary and larceny, was before Judge Johns and pleaded guilty to one count of the indictment. He is the young man arrested for breaking into the Vording house one night when he had been drinking. He was sentenced to the reform school.

Joseph Conley, who was indicted for assault with intent to kill, was also before Judge Johns. He pleaded guilty to one count and was sentenced to six months at hard labor on the rock pile and was fined $50 and costs, to be worked out on the rock pile if not paid.

Small Boys Up.

Four very small boys were up before the judge. They were a part of the crowd that broke into the Peaceful Valley club rooms and stole cigars and liquor and then got drunk on the liquor and sick on the cigars. On account of their extreme youthfulness they were let off easy. Earl Garver, aged 13 years, was sentenced to one day in court and fined $1 and costs; Garland Nelson, aged 12 years, was sentenced to ten days in jail and fined $1 and costs. Harry McEwen, aged 13 years, was sentenced to five days in jail and fined $1 and costs. Clarence Wertz, aged only 11 years, was sentenced to five days in jail and fined $1 and costs.

It was altogether about the most juvenile looking crowd that has been in the court room to answer a criminal charge. They are mere children and while they committed a real enough burglary they were spared the reform school.

The entries on the dockets Thursday besides the criminal cases were as follows:

Law Docket.

William Powers vs. the M. & C. Coal Company; dismissed as per stipulation on file at cost of defendant.

James E. Osborne vs. George W. Rupe; attachment; defendants defaulted and judgment on attachment assessed by court at $416.37, and judgment for same and costs and special execution.

Chancery.

W. H. Black et al. vs. the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, et al., decree pro confesso as to all defendants not answering, and referred to master.

IS COLD AT DREAMLAND

Bad Weather Sunday Makes Attendance Light at the Amusement Park.

The cold weather affected the attendance at Dreamland yesterday and last night, only a little over 600 being out. The Goodman band gave a concert in the afternoon. As cold as it was there were eight boys in swimming, but they only stayed in a short time. The carnival company pulled up and will leave this morning for Delavan, Ill., where they will show this week. There is a good vaudeville bill this week. The name of the attraction is the Reno-Alvord company. There are seven acts. The work of Edward Reno, with his magic and slight-of-hand, is clever. Miss Emily Reno, known as the queen of the slack wire, is also good. Miss Austin, who sings illustrated songs, has a very good voice and some beautifully colored slides are used for the illustrations. Another good act on the bill is a bunch of trained dogs. The vaudeville will open every night at 8:30.

A band concert will be given each night from 7:30 to 8:30 by the Dreamland band, after which they will form into an orchestra of ten pieces and play for the dance. The dance is open to the public and will last from 8:30 to 11 p. m.

The material for the new Traver circle swing is all here, and the working crew will be here from New York this week to erect it. The swing is seventy feet high and carries eight cars, each car holding four people. The dancing pavilion will be open to the public every night excepting Thursday evening, when the Apollo-Amity will hold their club dance, the music for which will be furnished by the entire Goodman band.

JACOB H. JUDY IS DEAD.

Aged Resident of Fisher Called to Another Life.

Special to the Herald.

Fisher, Ill., May 27.—Jacob H. Judy, a pioneer of Illinois, died at this place at 9 o'clock last evening. Mr. Judy had been ill for several weeks with the debilities incident to age and his demise was not unexpected.

The deceased was 85 years old. He came to Illinois in 1826 and settled in Hittle township, Tazewell county, where he resided for many years. He then moved to near Fisher, which had since been his home. When Mr. Judy moved to Tazewell county, the nearest neighbors of the Judy family were twelve miles away. Mr. Judy was a man of remarkable memory and often entertained his friends with reminiscences of the early days. He remembered distinctly the winter of the deep snow. He was also intimately acquainted with Fort Clark, which was the predecessor of Peoria and often told of his meetings with the Indians.

Mr. Judy is survived by his aged wife, who is an invalid, and by three sons and one daughter, L. W., of Manito, E. W., and L. C. of Fisher and Mrs. Esther Steller of Armington. The burial will be at Fisher.

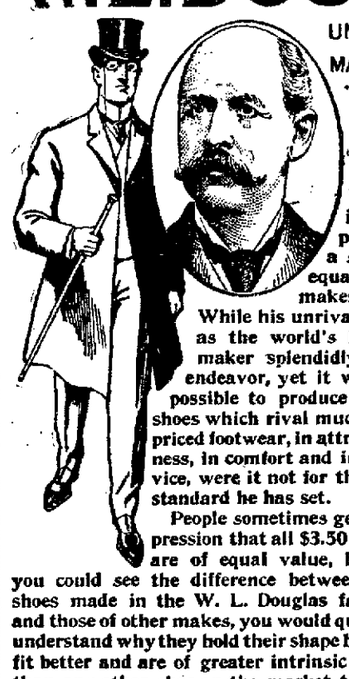
W.L.DOUGLAS



UNION MADE $3.50 SHOES FOR MEN.

The guiding motive in W. L. Douglas shoemaking is to produce the best possible shoe at the price—a shoe that has never been equalled. Every move he makes is toward that end. While his unrivalled facilities as the world's largest shoemaker splendidly second the endeavor, yet it would be impossible to produce the $3.50 shoes which rival much higher priced footwear, in attractiveness, in comfort and in service, were it not for the high standard he has set.

People sometimes get the impression that all $3.50 shoes are of equal value, but if you could see the difference between the shoes made in the W. L. Douglas factory and those of other makes, you would quickly understand why they hold their shape better, fit better and are of greater intrinsic value than any other shoe on the market to-day. W. L. Douglas guarantees their value by stamping his name and price on the bottom. Even though the price of leather has advanced very materially of late, you will find the same superior quality in W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes that have made them the most popular footwear in the world.

Just what caused the poor showing has not been satisfactorily explained. Individually the team appeared strong, but numerous games were lost. The first cheering change came in the Rock Island series, when two out of three were taken. The team is now in the west, and if it should be able to take half there would be complete satisfaction. The Rock Island team has been strengthened by the arrival of Spanton, the collegian first baseman. He has greatly strengthened that position and will likely make good there. The team has been short on infielder, several candidates for shortstop failing to make good.

MANAGER RESIGNS

Scott Hamblin Is No Longer Backing Decatur Athletic Club.

Scott Hamblin has resigned as manager of the baseball team of the Decatur athletic club. He no longer has anything whatever to do with the team and is not backing the organization.

Mr. Hamblin, however, is quite a base ball fan and cannot long stay out of the sport. He expects to soon organize a team of his own and will furnish uniforms and arrange for games, and intends to have a first class aggregation which will be prominent on the amateur diamond this summer.

Grays Beat Stars.

The Silver Stars were defeated Sunday afternoon by the Decatur Grays. The score was 15 to 9. The Grays won the game by good hitting. They have now played five games and won four of them. The batteries for the Grays yesterday was Hyser, H. Cairns and McGlade; for the Silver Stars, Dennis, Davidson and Patrofski.

Lost in Ten Innings.

The Decatur Red Sox went to Wapella yesterday and were beaten in a ten inning contest by a score of 11 to 10. The game was warmly contested and close all the way through.

TWO MEN LEAD BY BIG MARGIN

Lemon and Swats Are Hitting Well Above the .300 Mark.

OTHERS SHOW POORLY

Next Man Is More Than .100 Less.

The batting averages of the Decatur team, as compiled below, and representing games up to and including May 24, indicates miserable work with the stick, with two exceptions. Of those who have taken part in every game played, Swats leads the list by a margin of over 100 per cent, the next man having an average of but .218. And although there has been but very little said about it, Lee Lemon, better known as "Peanut," is doing some remarkable work with the stick. He is but two games behind Swats with an average of .425. "Peanut" is one of the hardest workers on the team and both his batting and fielding are above the ordinary.

Swats has been getting his hits of late with pleasing regularity. When the fact is taken into consideration that very few in either of the big leagues are hitting above the .300 mark, his performance is flattering. No doubt a compiled list of the entire Three-I league would show he and Lemon to be right at the top. If the rest of the team were only hitting anywhere near as good, things might be greatly different in the standing of the team as a whole.

Pat's Bad Showing.

Not counting the pitchers, Manager Leewe comes next with an average of .218. Pat O'Connor is away down at the bottom with an average of but .081. Pat seems to have lost his batting eye this season, but it may serve him better as soon as he gets working regularly. Last year he started out poorly, but picked up in a remarkable manner before the season was half gone and was well up the list at the finish. Out of thirty-seven times at bat this season he has secured but three hits.

In the fielding Al Kuhn leads the fielders with an average of .995. Manager Leewe is a second with .979, and O'Connor is a close third with but three points less.

Following is the batting and fielding averages of the players as they stand:

ARTHUR SHUTS OUT PIERSON

Smith's Pitching Proved Too Much for the Visitors.

Special to the Herald.

Arthur, Ill., May 27.—The Arthur Giants defeated Pierson in a well played game by a score of 3 to 0. But 31 men faced Smith, two reaching first on scratch hits, one on balls and the other by reason of being hit by a pitched ball. Pierson put up a good game in the field but could not do anything with the stick. Smith struck out eleven men.

Pierson was reinforced by the Merritt brothers of the Atwood Midgets. Sammons was sent to the bench in the seventh and was replaced by Pierson, who was also hit hard. Sullivan plays a double header here Decoration day, morning and afternoon.

HERRERA GETS ALL THE BLAME

Mexican Is Roundly Condemned for Affair of Friday Night.

WAS AFRAID OF BAT

Nelson Exonerated by the Sporting Public.

Exit the pug from Los Angeles. Another case of killing the goose that laid the golden egg. Was there ever anything quite so bad as that Friday night fiasco, in which Battling Nelson and Aurelio Herrera, mainly the latter, played the star role?

There have been all manner of fakes and fraud perpetrated on an easily beguiled public, but this latest and most shocking, yes, almost criminal piece of jugglery, has already gone down in history as the fiercest thing ever recorded in the annals of pugilism.

And whom is it up to? Well, it looks like Herrera. The Mexican seems to be the guilty one, and despite their disgust and the fact that they are just now inconsolable, fair minded sporting men are a unit in exonerating Nelson. Something may yet transpire to incriminate the Dane or his manager, Billy Nolan, but as the matter stands now the blame rests on the heads of Herrera and his manager, Jacobs.

The question who tampered with the scales may never be known, but inferences can readily be drawn from the fact that Herrera could have mounted any one of a thousand set of scales in Los Angeles, but absolutely refused to do so. That he is the one that was over weight there can be little or no doubt, as all scales looked alike to Nelson, who was ready and willing to weigh in at 131 pounds at 6 o'clock, according to the articles of agreement, or 133 ringside.

Nelson should be praised rather than condemned for the part he took. As champion—though he has no clear title—he reserves the right to dictate, yet he waived the weight question rather than disappoint the crowd, agreeing to let the Greaser come in at 140 pounds, practically catch weights, but this inducement was not enough to make Herrera strip for action. Nelson, therefore, had no other alternative than give up in disgust and leave the scene, and the Mexican to the mercy of the jeering throng, while he withdrew to his hotel.

The only solution that can be formed with the evidence at hand is that Herrera, often accused of having a yellow streak as wide as a gang plank, quit cold and shivered in his shoes at the thought of facing the boy who once gave him the worst licking he ever received, unless it be the time when Kid Goodman of Boston cut him into ribbons in a battle at St. Louis.

The game has been dealt a finishing blow at Los Angeles.

Nelson's Fortune.

A list of the earnings of Battling Nelson during the two years he has been prominently before the boxing public, will doubtless be of interest to the admirers of the Dane. His first real fight was in 1904 with Spider Welsh. Following is the amount of his share at each fight since:

Spider Welsh	$ 448.00
Martin Canole	750.00
Eddy Hanlon	2,000.00
Herrera	2,100.00
Young Corbett	2,500.00

Young Corbett	3,500.00
Exhibition fights	4,500.00
Jimmy Britt	24,980.00

WIFE COMPROMISES ON POODLE DOG.

Tearful Plea for Reconciliation Easily Adjusted.

Lexington, Ky., May 27.—After pleading with her husband with tears in her eyes to return to her and threatening him with bodily harm if he refused, Mrs. Hester Driscoll of Bloomington, Ind., finally compromised with him by adopting a poodle dog, which had been a pet of the family for several years. Mrs. Driscoll was arrested on a warrant sworn out by her former husband, J. J. Driscoll. Judge Riley placed her under a peace bond and instructed her to leave the city.

Mrs. Driscoll disregarded the order of the court until she had made one more attempt to effect a reconciliation. Then it was that the former family pet, a not too pretty poodle, was given Mrs. Driscoll in assaugement of her wounded feelings.

SHORT REVIEW OF THE THREE-I

Shows that Race Thus Far Has Sprung Some Surprises.

MUCH CHANGING DONE

Run for Flag Not So Close as Last Year.

Following is a review of the first three weeks of baseball in the Three I League as written by the Bloomington writer to the Chicago Chronicle.

The close of the third week in the Three I league finds Dubuque, Peoria and Cedar Rapids well in the lead, with Springfield, Davenport, Rock Island, Bloomington and Decatur following in the order named. The race so far has been marked bmy surprises. It was not generally supposd that Dubuque would take the lead at such an early date, nor was it thought that Peoria would be able to keep far ahead of Springfield.

The speed of the Cedar Rapids aggregation was also underestimated, and the ease with which the "rabbits" have kept on the heels of the other leading teams has been entirely unexpected. Davenport has been sized up for about the middle of the race, as had Bloomington, Rock Island and Decatur, and there is not much surprise in the showing of the last four teams. All four have been handled with an eye to the salary limit and no extravagance has been allowed in this direction. This is also true of the "rabbits."

Peoria and Springfield have been credited with possessing the highest priced teams and both were assured advanced positions. Word comes from Springfield, however, that there is some concern about several positions and that a shift may be made. Negotiations have been in progress with the St. Louis Cardinals for the services of Jack Himes, the former Cedar Rapids outfielder. Himes has been hitting hard of late, but it is said that there is a disposition to drop him.

Cardinals Want to Sell Himes.

St. Louis wishes to sell him to Springfield, but the latter association is not anxious to burn up any more money for players and is desirous of securing the use of his services for the remainder of the season, he to revert to St. Louis next year. If such a deal is arranged Himes will be taken on, supposedly in place of Bennett, the outfielder secured from Duluth and who has been looked upon as such a find. There would be general surprise around the circuit if Bennett was dropped and he would be in demand by Bloomington and other clubs who need outfielders.

Earl Gardner, the second baseman, who was bought by the Springfield association from Beaumont, Tex., for $30 last winter, was given his freedom this week and immediately signed with Des Moines. Gardner was not thought fast enough for the Senators, but the fact that Des Moines of the Western league was after him makes it appear as if Springfield had made a mistake. It looks as if Cameron, who was originally signed for first base and then released, and who was taken on two weeks ago as second baseman when Wolfe was sent to the outfield in place of Bennett, would be a fixture on second, leaving Wolfe as utility man. Cameron was sought by Bloomington for first, but the decision of Springfield to keep him on second made it necessary for Bloomington to look elsewhere.

Bloomington Drops Two Players.

The bloomers were disappointed in both Tracey and Waltman for first base and both were dropped. Utility Catcher Wilson has been temporarily on the initial sack while efforts were made to land another man. Lines have been out for James of Indianapolis and several other good men but so far without result. The management took on the veteran Michael Lawrence this week. He has been umpiring for the league since the season opened, but was dissatisfied with the work and anxious to get back into the players' ranks again. He was with Davenport and Peoria last year and may be used either in the outfield or on first base. It is also hoped to land one or two additional pitchers, as the team is weak in that department.

The return of the veteran backstop, Fred Donovan, to the team, was marked by an improvement in playing in every department. He held out for more money, but a compromise was finally reached. Donovan is a sure death to base stealers and his hitting is usually timely. Vogel, the new second baseman, has made good and will remain. Beck is another find who will remain. He has signed for the box, but his hitting has been so heavy and it developed that he was such a sure outfielder that he will be retained in center, according to the present outlook. This is his first professional season, but it is predicted that he will be snapped up by a major club before he sees many more seasons.

Henline Is Showing Up Poorly.

The work of Henline, who has been in right field, has been highly disappointing this season. He batted hard last year and his showing was such that Manager Stahl of the Washington Americans gave him a trial. He was dropped, however. This year in the Three I he has been unable to hit the ball or gauge outfield drives, and his weakness has been a source of irritation to the management. It was planned to drop him if no improvement was shown.

The Decatur management was grievously disappointed in the preliminary showing of the team in the first two weeks of the season and desperate efforts have been made in the direction of strengthening the nine. A number of players were sought, but only in the case of Thomas Cooper, purchased

DIES AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. H. C. Broughton Passes Away After Years of Illness.

The death of Mrs. Goldie Pearl Broughton occurred Thursday morning between 9 and 10 o'clock at the residence of her father, W. S. Whitehouse who lives five miles southeast of Decatur near Turpin station.

Death came to Mrs. Broughton after over a year's illness, and was directly due to tuberculosis. She leaves her husband and two children. They are Russell, aged 7 years, and Fern, aged 5 years.

Mrs. Broughton was born in Edgar county February 22, 1880, June 8, 1898 she was united in marriage to H. C. Broughton. The union was a happy one. Mrs Broughton was universally liked and was prominent among the ladies of her community.

The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon from the residence. The interment will take place at Mt. Zion cemetery. The services will be conducted by Rev. W. S. Neeley, assisted by Rev. W. L. Bankson.

The Corn Supply.

Editor Herald: I read what is said in regard to the corn on hand, etc. According to the government and bears on the board of trade we raised last year 27,000,000,000 bushels and had on hand, of old corn, about September 1, 1905, 100,000,000 bushels. According to the government estimate we had on hand March 1, 1906, 1,100,000,000, showing a consumption, including export, of 1,700,000,000 bushels, at the rate of about 9,500,000 bushels per day. At the same rate of consumption from March 1 there was corn on hand sufficient to last till July 1, 1906. Farmers believe that 15,000,000 bushels per day were consumed during March. It is well known that a great many farmers are now short of corn to seed.

OLD SOLDIERS HEAR SERMON BY REV. J. L. THOMPSON

Members of G. A. R., Cadets, and Other Organizations, Attend Memorial Services Sunday.

The usual custom of holding a Memorial service at one of the churches the Sunday preceding Decoration day was followed out by the G. A. R. at the First Christian church Sunday morning. The different orders which attended the service were the members of Dunham Post, G. A. R., the W. R. C., Spanish War Veterans, Sons of Veterans, the Ladies' Aid society and the Decatur Cadets. The G. A. R. and the Spanish War Veterans were escorted to the church by the Decatur Cadets.

The church was beautifully decorated with flags, bunting and flowers, and presented a fine appearance.

The service was an impressive one and the address delivered by Rev. J. L. Thompson, the pastor of the church, on "Unknown Heroes," appealed strongly to all the members of the different orders that were present.

Special music was furnished by a double quartet composed of the Misses Jones, Humphreys, Graves and Lucas and Messrs. Bennett, Thrift, Graves and Bethel. The congregation also joined in heartily with the chorus in singing "The Star Spangled Banner" and "America."

The Address.

Rev. Mr. Thompson said in part:

"There is nothing in poetry and romance that surpasses the wondrous story of this republic. The Declaration of Independence was not to establish a new nation, but to create a new world. It was clearly the inspiration of the Almighty that led in the appointment of George Washington, the planter, and Abraham Lincoln, the lawyer, to guide us in the hours of the greatest danger. God has stood by the republic in the strange vicissitudes of war, and it is clearly seen in the surrender of Lord Cornwallis, the defeat of General Packenham and the striking down of Albert Sidney Johnson and Stonewall Jackson at times when all was most favorable to them. That a just God has ruled the destinies of this nation and wherever 'Old Glory' spreads her stars and stripes.

"It is a well known fact throughout the world that the stars and stripes stand for liberty, and when it is the issue we may expect God to be on its side. Friends, our country will live victorious, adhering to the immortal principles which Washington taught, and that Lincoln sustained. They labored for principle and not for policy; for liberty against slavery; for love against hatred. May they live in us for the maintenance of the best government on earth.

Some Bad Material.

In the building of this great nation some bad material got into the structure and it became necessary to repair it. The wise master builder was found in Illinois, and his name was Abraham Lincoln.'

In Lincoln's mind a burning question arose: 'Can a nation live half free and half slave?' and the answer came in the negative: It can not.

"From the night on which the old bell was heard by men to whom liberty was sweet and forever enchanting, to the hour of emancipation the greatest thought had been that all men are created free and equal. That among the indisputable rights are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

"Oh, what a beautiful conception of human liberty shines forth in the preamble of that glorious constitution of the United States. To perpetuate these teachings has cost the life blood of many brave sons of America.

Purpose of Meeting.

"You have assembled in this place of worship to prepare your hearts for the sacred duty resting upon all comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic. That is, the decoration of the dead soldiers' graves. This year an innovation—a precedent—is to be established, and your commander in chief and adjutant general suggest that you put flowers on the Confederate graves as well. What does this mean? Simply this: Congress has voted $200,000 to care for the graves so long neglected. It all seems so strange, until we think of the new baptism of 'Old Glory' when the veteran Joe Wheeler and Theodore Roosevelt marched side by side against the Spaniard red.

Home at Danville.

"Two weeks ago I visited the old soldiers' home at Danville, and was much impressed with the thought that the old soldiers will soon be no more. They are now crossing the silent river at the rate of about 65,000 a year. Death, who knocks with equal hand at the doors of cottage and palace, has certainly been busy at his appointed work, and many sleep beneath the laurels won in freedom's battle. Yes—'They are gone, but no forgotten.'

"I am glad to welcome the members of the W. R. C. God bless you! Some of you have fought greater battles than we men have on the field. Yours, perhaps, was a battle for bread. For many of you have supported the disabled brother or husband. 'Verily I say unto you, you shall have your reward, for grief is not the end of all.' I seem to hear the funeral march break into a victorious song after battle—the battle is ended and the victory is won. Our dead brother lives and bids us think of life, not death."

After the services the cadets escorted the members of the G. A. R. back to the lodge rooms and then disbanded.

LARGE CROWD AT FUNERAL

Many Present at Services Over Remains of Mrs. Broughton.

BEAUTIFUL FLOWERS

Are Presented and Burial Is at Mt. Zion Cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. H. C. Broughton, formerly Miss Goldie Pearl Whitehouse, was held Sunday afternoon from the residence of her father, W. S. Whitehouse, a half mile south of Turpin. It was very largely attended by friends of the young woman and the family.

The services were conducted by Rev. W. S. Neely of Mt. Zion and the music was by a choir composed of Mr. Neely, S. D. Smith, W. R. Black and J. W. Pierce, all of Mt. Zion.

The floral offerings were particularly beautiful. Seldom is there seen at a funeral such a large collection of elegant flowers.

The Services.

The services opened with the singing of the hymn "Trust" by the choir. There was a prayer by Mr. Neely and the choir sang "Memories of Galilee," a favorite hymn of Mrs. Broughton. There was a scripture reading and the singing of the hymn "Some Day," followed by remarks by the minister. The service closed with the singing of "The Beautiful Land."

The burial was at Mt. Zion cemetery. The pall bearers were Fannie Turpin, Minnie Miller, Fay Davenport, Mabel Ballenger, Anna Dunn and Lizzie Dunn. The pall bearers were Fred Davidson, Elbert Cornthwaite, Walter Black, William Crayeroft, William Dunn and John Price.

Her Life.

Goldie Pearl Whitehouse was born Feb. 22, 1880, and died May 24, 1906, aged 26 years, 3 months and 2 days. She was married to H. C. Broughton June 8, 1896, the late Rev. A. W. Hawkins performing the ceremony.

Mrs. Broughton is survived by her husband and two children, William Russell and Goldie Fern. Besides she leaves her father and his wife who had been a mother to her since she was 3 years old. Mrs. Broughton had been in bad health for fifteen months and during the last five weeks of her life was confined to her bed. She was a highly popular young woman.

Henry Nelhouse.

The funeral of the late Henry Nelhouse was held from the Salem church southwest of the city, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Many old friends and neighbors were present to pay their last respects to one that they have known for many years past. The services were conducted by Carl Switzer of Boody, and music was furnished by a choir composed of George Stingman, August Fathour, Dora Fathour, Minnie Fathour, Annie Stingman, Freida Stingman, Emma Stingman, Minnie Linthurst, Otto Linthurst and William Stingman.

The pall bearers were Fred Kater, Henry Kater, John Kraft, Charley Musch, Fred Kreschel and Dummermuth.

The interment was at Salem cemetery.

John Hughes.

The funeral of John Hughes will be held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's church. Father Murphy will conduct the services. The coal miners' union and the local order of Foresters will attend in a body. The interment will be at Calvary.

ALLIANCE IS NOW STRAINED

Deneen's Position in the Yates' Campaign Causing Trouble.

SOME DISSATISFIED

And May Break Away from the Administration.

Regarding the Deneen and Yates alliance J. J. Lane in the Sunday Inter Ocean has the following to say:

"Republican politicians throughout the state are waiting for the next move in the contest between Shelby M. Cullom and Richard Yates for the republican nomination for United States senator. Just what Yates will do has not been announced by him or his campaign managers.

"The break in the Yates campaign caused by the nullification of the primary law of 1905 by the supreme court and the calling of the special session of the legislature to enact another primary law, was, beyond question, a set back for Yates and his campaign. He had finished his canvass in the state and had begun his efforts in Chicago when the old law was knocked out.

"As Yates was basing his campaign and his chances of success on his appeals to the people under the populus vote for senator provided in the defunct act, he could not continue his campaign until he knew that the same provision would be in whatever new law might be passed. Practically the same provision is in the new law, and so far as that is concerned, Yates' position is unchanged. But it is not likely that he has gained by the delay. During his campaign in the state he visited some ninety counties and spoke to thousands of people and aroused a considerable amount of enthusiasm for his cause."

Deneen's Position.

Regarding Deneen's position in the Yates campaign the writer says:

"But for the great bulk of the wards that were for Deneen in the last state convention—the wards controlled by Busse, Fease, Campbell, Reddick, Hanberg, and their followers—the governor's power to help Yates seems to be either nothing or not exercised. As things look at present, any votes that Yates may get in Cook county he will have to gain for himself, not only without the help but in spite of the opposition of the Deneen leaders named. One result of all this is extreme dissatisfaction among the Yates men out in the state. They are still for Yates, but they have not tied themselves to Deneen.

Storm Brewing.

"An effort of this feeling will be seen in the peremptory resignation from state offices of a number of the Yates leaders. They are thankful to Governor Deneen for retaining them in office, but many of them kept their places only because by so doing they could help Yates. If they conclude that the governor's organization in Chicago is going to cast loose from Yates, even though that should mean breaking with the governor, they will free themselves from further obligation to the governor. To this extent there are many signs of the breaking up of the Yates-Deneen alliance.

"That Yates will remain in the fight to the end seems likely. He will do so, probably, even though he should become convinced that Governor Deneen can give him no help in Cook county. Yates will remain in the contest in order to please his friends in the state, who think that he owes this to them, and, further, to compel a demonstration in the state convention of the strength that Governor Deneen can show.

Will Not Quit.

"Yates will not quit, his friends declare, and the test in the state convention will show which is the stronger—he or Governor Deneen. The Cullom leaders are planning control of the state convention—including the indorsement of Cullom for re-election, the nomination of the state candidates, and the control of the next state committee, with a view to still further dominating the republican state organization in 1908.

"Mayor Dunne will not join hands with the Robert E. Burke wing of the Cook county democracy—at least not yet, and probably not soon. The mayor gave out yesterday his reply to the request to him, made some days ago by a committee of fifty-three from the Burke organization and its allies, that he name a committee of twenty-five to co-operate with the Burke forces in an effort to capture the democratic primaries and with them the convention and the county committee this fall. There were represented in that committee of fifty-three the county democracy, Chicago Federation of Labor, Progressive Alliance, Workingmen's Municipal Ownership union, Single Tax league, and Municipal Ownership league. No formal document was left with the mayor for consideration, but speeches were made to him by about twenty of the members of the committee. Burke told him that if he did not join with the new movement he would not be mayor a year from that date.

DOES NOT BELIEVE IN INFANT DAMNATION

Dr. Penhallegon Gives Facts About Belief of Presbyterians and Regarding Union.

"It is generally and popularly believed that the Presbyterian church holds, or did hold, to the doctrine of infant damnation. As a matter of fact, such a doctrine was never taught by our church. No such doctrine can be found in any of the church documents, nor has it ever been heard from the lips of anyone authorized to speak for the church. I will admit that the church has, unfortunately and unhappily, stood for certain other things which it should not, but it does not teach infant damnation."

The above was one of the striking statements made by Dr. W. H. Penhallegon, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in his sermon Sunday evening. The subject was "Union and Reunion,' having special reference to the recent union of the Cumberland Presbyterian and the Presbyterian churches.

Should Not Boast.

The peroration to the sermon was no less striking, and was uttered with a depth of feeling that moved the audience. It was as follows:

"Let us not boast that we have caused the Cumberland Presbyterians to give up their name, nor presume to say that we have swallowed them up.

"Neither let the Cumberland Presbyterians say that we have had to come to their way of thinking on doctrinal questions.

"Rather, let us all say that in the broader spirit of the times we have come to an understanding with each other, and decided to unite."

Dr. Penhallegon began his sermon by telling a story of a little boy and his papa walking in the city. They passed several churches, and the little fellow asked whose church it was and the father replied, mentioning the name of some famous divine each time. Finally they came to the father's own church.

"'Whose church is that, papa?' asked the little fellow.

"'That is my church, son,' replied the father.

"'I wonder if God never has any churches,' was the pertinent reply of the little boy.

"This question has been not inaptly asked by observant people in recent years," declared Dr. Penhallegon, "and in the past few years the movement has been toward consolidation. The question has often been asked: 'Why is it essential for these churches to remain separate?' I will not attempt to answer the question, for I do not feel that I could justify the present separation of the churches in this country. The movement, however, is for union. In Australia the Presbyterian bodies have united in one, and so have the Methodists. In Canada the Methodists, the Presbyterians and the Congregationalists have united into one church. Even in Scotland union is beginning to gain headway.

Start of Movement.

"Several years ago a movement was begun to unite the Cumberland Presbyterian and the Presbyterian churches. This movement, it is generally understood, was originated in Decatur, and that Mr. Hawkins was its originator. Dr. Hubbert, stated clerk of the Cumberland Presbyterian assembly, however, says that the union movement started on the Pacific coast, but that it was almost simultaneous with the inception of the movement here.

"The history of the separation of the Cumberland Presbyterian church from the Presbyterian church is familiar to everyone. The Cumberland Presbyterian church started in the Cumberland presbytery in Kentucky. There had been a great revival of religion, and, as there always is in such cases, there was a large number of men claiming that they were called to preach the gospel. They were all good men and were doubtlessly moved by the spirit to preach. But they were uneducated as a rule and there was at that time in the church a number of men who were violently opposed to uneducated men preaching. They were not only opposed to it, but they wrote and spoke in drastic language against it. They were Calvanists and they claimed that it would be a scandal for the church to allow such men to preach.

Was Dissolved.

"The Cumberland presbytery, however, continued to license their uneducated men to preach, and finally it was dissolved by the synod for insubordination. Then the Cumberland Presbyterian church was founded. It has had a remarkable growth, especially in the south.

"Last week the general assembly of that church was held in this city. This assembly was interesting to me because in the first place there were 270 men representing twenty states. Many of these men were university men. The younger men of the Cumberland Presbyterian church are, as a rule, more educated, while the old men who have lived on the frontier have not had such educational advantages. They are lacking in culture and refinement, but not in earnestness and concentration. Also I was interested with the devotion of every commissioner to the church.

"In the third place I was interested in the union proposition itself. I have always favored union since the question was first brought up, because I thought that it would mean one less church in the world, and 'in union there is strength.'

No Longer a Reason.

"There was no longer any reason for a separation of the churches. The Presbyterian church has outgrown the third chapter of its confession of faith. I do not believe it and there is no progressive member of the church who does.

"In recent years the Cumberland Presbyterian church has been raising its educational standards, while at the same time the Presbyterian church has been weeding out some of its obsolete doctrines. Both faults have been rectified, there no longer exists any difference in the church and most wide-awake men have said:

"'Let us go back to the mother church.'

"I am exceedingly sorry that in their return the Cumberland Presbyterians do not come as an entire church. There has been a division, but I can safely say that the most educated and progressive men in the church are heartily in favor of union. Of the twenty-two ex-moderators in the church twenty-one are for union. All the colleges and the faculties of those colleges, all the leading ministers, the church paper, and, I believe, every missionary in the church, is in favor of union. How far the non-union sentiment will go I do not know. If it spreads at all it will be in the country districts where the people have not advanced as far as those nearer the educational centers have.

About Loyalists.

"I sympathize most heartily with the 'loyalists,' as they call themselves. The papers report that gray bearded men wept at one of their meetings at the thought of having to give up their beloved church.

"As far as the two Presbyterian churches here in Decatur are concerned there will be absolutely no difference in their doctrines, for they have been preaching the same thing for a number of years. In the management of the churches as a whole the two sets of boards will be united and made stronger. The union will be a great thing for the country districts, where the churches are not able to support a pastor now."

ONE WEEK WAS ENOUGH

Decatur Boys Left Carnival Company Because Pay Was Not Coming.

Two Decatur boys engaged with the Mundy Carnival company last week to remain with them the remainder of the season, but the one week was sufficient and they both aver that there are many better jobs than with the carnival company. David Levy engaged to play the piano at the German village. He was offered $18 a week at the start, but to make sure of things he refused to accept unless the salary be cut to $2 a day and a promise that the ghost would walk every night. The spirit walked but once during the week and Davy concluded to look elsewhere for employment. Another young man by the name of Williams engaged to give illustrated songs and he likewise forsook the road after the one week's trial.

Just to keep up the fun a couple of fellows came over from Springfield Saturday night and induced two of the girls with the company to go back with them. An effort was made by the management to get a couple of Decatur girls to take their places, but it is not known whether or not they succeeded.

GOES ON VACATION.

Linn Hazzard, who has had charge of the music at the Bijou, left yesterday morning for Springfield where he played in the afternoon and evening at the Gaiety theatre. Today he goes to Joliet for a few days' visit and will spend the remainder of a month in the north before returning to Decatur to organize his music class. He has been engaged by Manager Sigfried to play at the Bijou again next season.

PLEASED WITH SINGING

Miss Mary Billsbury Attracted Attention and Will Give Concert.

At the Presbyterian church Sunday evening Miss Mary Billsbury of Streator made a splendid impression in her rendition of Costa's "I Will Extol Thee." So well did she sing that when the pastor, Dr. Penhallegon arose to begin his discourse he complimented Miss Billsbury on her singing and said that the audience might have an opportunity to hear her sing again while she is in the city.

Miss Billsbury has a delightful soprano voice of wonderful range and absolute control. One of the pleasing and unusual features about Miss Billsbury is that her voice is nature's gift. She has given to music very little more study than most any other young lady of ordinary talents. She sings naturally.

Miss Billsbury will give a concert Thursday evening at the Central Church of Christ.

DYING GIRL'S VISION SAVES HER FATHER.

St. Paul, Minn., May 27.—Although unaware of the fact that her father was in Keystone, and lying herself at the point of death, Lulu Kendall of Keystone, S. D., saw, as in a vision, the accident which occurred to her father.

Miss Kendall was attending the Sisters' school at Sturgis, Minn., when she became seriously ill, and her father went to that city to be near her. The school is on a bluff, and while climbing up the hill Kendall missed his footing and fell thirty feet to the gorge below.

That night his daughter begged the doctors to send aid to him. She described vividly the accident which had befallen her father and told how he lay at the foot of the neighboring cliffs. He was found there in the morning. The girl died that night. The father probably will recover.

GOOD CHANCE FOR THE BOYS

Two from Macon County Can Go to University of Illinois.

THE TUITION IS FREE

There Is Also An Opportunity for Girl to Go.

Berlin Burrows, president of the Farmers' Institute, has one application for a scholarship in the University of Illinois. It came from Marion Rucker of Long Creek. There are two scholarships for boys and one in domestic science for girls which the institute has to give out, and Macon county boys and girls ambitious to secure the benefit of a college education should make up their mind to apply.

Mr. Burrows says the course covers two years, and tuition is absolutely free. He suggests that the boys and girls who desire to take this course should make application when they finally decide to take the entire course. An opportunity is presented to two boys and one girl that should not be neglected.

GIVES CATTLE TO AID DISEASE FIGHT.

Seventy-Five Fine Cows Go to the Slaughter Pen.

Kenosha, Wis., May 27.—In order to aid the state in the movement to stamp out tuberculosis in cattle, Isaac Stephenson, the former Marinette congressman, who has a herd of fine cattle in this county, turned them over to the state veterinarian to be slaughtered because a taint of the disease had been found among them. Seventy-five of the cows will be slaughtered.

ENDS HIS LIFE IN BARBER'S CHAIR

Columbus, Ky., May 27.—Because his sweetheart whom he had courted since early childhood, married another, Bert Garner, a popular young man, put an end to his existence in dramatic fashion at Gideon, a small town across the river from Columbus. Accounts of the suicide reaching here are that young Garner entered a barber shop under pretext of getting shaved. He got into the chair and the barber had lathered his face and was stropping the razor when Garner snatched the blade and drew it across his throat. Death ensued in a few moments.

COLD AT FISHING CLUB

Many of the Members There But They Remained Indoors.

Quite a number of the members of the Decatur Fishing club visited at the lake yesterday, going out before the cold wave arrived. It was anything but a pleasant day to be at the lake, particularly outside the cottage and the time was spent principally in visiting indoors.

Several new plans for cottages are under way and within the next few weeks there will be considerable more building going on. A. T. Summers will commence the erection of his summer cottage this week and hopes to have it ready for occupancy within the next two or three weeks. With his family he expects to put in the greater part of the summer months at the lake.

GOEBEL'S REVOLVER KILLS ITS OWNER.

Kentucky Man's Keepsake Accidentally Discharged.

Nicholasville, Ky., May 27.—Ward Penthe was almost instantly killed by accidental shooting. With two companions he was preparing to drive to High Bridge to act as deputy sheriff for the day and had a revolver, the same Governor Goebel had on his person when he was killed, in his inside pocket of his vest. The three young men had entered the buggy and Penthe was in the middle.

Before taking the lines he stooped over to put some object he had been holding under the buggy seat, when the weapon dropped to the floor. It exploded and the ball perforated Penthe's bowels. He lived only two hours. For several sessions of the Kentucky legislature Penthe was senate cloakroom keeper.

It is the intention to finish the preliminary hearing before the meeting of the grand jury, which will be convened the following week.

William Mings, who is on the farm near Vermilion, will be the principal witness for the prosecution. Mrs. Mings, who has recovered from her recent illness, is at the family residence in Vermilion.

EXCURSIONISTS GO ON C. H. & D.

Weather Interfered Some with Business to Indianapolis Sunday.

AN ALTON EXCURSION

Took Over Three Hundred from Decatur.

The C. H. & D. excursion to Indianapolis carried a fair crowd, weather conditions interfering to some extent. Some delay in getting up the train caused it to be thirty minutes late in departing.

Wabash shipments were medium, general order material in the grocery line, however, coming in in considerable quantities. Berries were off, especially from the St. Louis markets. Shipments have been declining since the Alton excursion over the Wabash and Illinois Terminal was the only special scheduled over these routes. The Wabash train carried three hundred and ten passengers to Edwardsville Junction, where the transfer to the Terminal was made.

Yards Quiet.

The yards were quiet yesterday, very little switching being done except the making up of regular trains. Several of the regular men were off, making the work heavy for those remainng. Heavy shipments are booked for the middle of the week.

Traffic over the Central yesterday was light, no special passenger service being scheduled, and freight was mainly billed through for the north division. Some coal was consigned to the local yards.

For Mountain Service.

At the Juniata shops of the Pennsylvania there has been completed the second electric locomotive built for experimental purposes. The trials of efficiency will probably be made on the mountain grades between Gilitzin and Altoona. These electric locomotives were authorized primarily for service at the New York terminal tunnels, but attention has more recently been turned to the need of electric power on the mountain region.

Important Decision.

A decision of considerable importance has been made by judge Reed, in the United States district court at Sioux City, Ia., in dismissing proceedings brought against the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis by the estate of a man killed in an accident. The court made a sweeping ruling that cars loaded in one state carrying commodities to another, are engaged in interstate commerce and cannot be attached. The practice of holding cars of defendant companies as a means of securing service has been practiced throughout the nation, but Judge Reed holds that it interferes with interstate commerce and is illegal.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The Cuban house of representatives has appropriated $500,000 as subventions for about half a dozen branch railroads in various parts of the republic. Several of them in Santiago will make connection with the Cuba company.

The executive officers of all the Gould lines will go to New York within the next ten days for consultation prior to the departure of George Gould for Europe. He will sail with his family early in June.

General Traffic Manager Ives of the Wabash has returned to St. Louis headquarters from New York. He has appointed as his secretary F. M. Bender, who for eight years was secretary to General Freight Agent Gray of the Burlington.

Vice President E. B. Pryor of the Wabash, who returned from New York, will leave again for that city. The Wabash board will meet early in the week.

The Spanish government has taken up, as one of the features of its foreign policy, the project of constructing, with the approval of other nations, a railway from Dakar, in the Senegal, to Ceuta, in northern Morrocco.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers approved a plan for the establishment of an indemnity insurance feature for the relief of engineers injured, but not to an extent entitling them to relief under the rules of the insurance department, was referred to the insurance department.

An investment of $7,300,000 is contemplated by capitalists who have obtained a concession from Argentina and Chile for a railway to cross the Andes at La Cumbre, 12,000 feet above sea level. It will be twenty-eight miles long and will for much of its length be operated by rack and pinion.

The journey from Valparaiso to Buenos Ayres will by this means be shortened from sixty-two to forty-eight hours.

ASCENSION DAY SERVICE

Feast of Last Thursday Celebrated Sunday at Lutheran Church.

It is the custom in this congregation to celebrate the festival of the ascension on the Sunday following Ascension day, which was last Tuesday. Accordingly the pastor in the morning preached on the ascension of Christ. The attendance at both services was only fair.

Announcements.

The Luther League meets on Monday evening and the subject will be "Titus and Philemon."

There will be no meeting of the Willing Workers this week.

The choir holds its meeting for practice on Thursday evening.

The examination of the class of Catechisims which has been undergoing instructions at the hands of the pastor for some time, will take place at the church on Friday evening at 7:45. It is public and open to all. This class will be received into full membership with the church by the ancient rite of confirmation next Sunday morning.

REV. S. H. BOWYER IS CHOSEN

Will Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon to High School Class.

THE PROGRAM READY

For the Annual Graduation Exercises June 8.

Next Sunday evening the baccalaureate service for the high school graduates will be held in the First Baptist church. The address will be made by Rev. S. H. Bowyer, pastor of the church. A special program will be given. The entire class will be present.

The service last year was held in the opera house and the sermon was preached by Rev. W. J. Davidson. Mr. Bowyer has not yet decided what his subject will be, nor has the complete program been arranged.

The Graduation.

The regular graduating exercises of the high school will be held Friday morning, June 8 in the opera house. The ushers for the occasion will be selected from the junior class and there will be probably eight of them.

The program will follow the usual order, there being six literary numbers and six music numbers. There will be a salulatory, two orations, an essay, a reading, a piano solo, a piano duet, two class choruses, and a semi-chorus. The chorus will be sung by the entire graduating class, while the semi-chorus will be composed of selected voices. The completed program is now in the hands of the printers and will be ready for distribution in a few days.

The Reunion.

Friday evening the alumni association will hold their annual reunion in the E. A. Gastman School. A play will be given as was published in the Herald several days ago. At the close of the play the association will go to the coliseum where a dance will be held.

The graduating class this year will consist of forty-seven members. The class is hardly so large as the class of last year but taken as a whole, it compares favorably with previous graduating classes.

The Scholarship.

On Friday morning during the commencement exercises Miss Caroline S. Lutz will be awarded the annual scholarship. The scholarship entitles the holder to a course free of charge in several of the state colleges and universities which have made such provisions, notably the University of Chicago and Northwestern University. The scholarship is given to the member of each graduating class who has made the highest record in class work.

GO TO BOILING SPRINGS

Members of G. A. R. Decorate Soldiers Graves in Country Cemetery.

A large number of the members of Dunham Post, G. A. R., went to the Boiling Springs cemetery yesterday afternoon to decorate the graves of the soldiers buried at that place. It has been the custom of the post to do this for a number of years past.

OPERATION PERFORMED.

Mary Stuart, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stuart of this city, underwent an operation Sunday morning at her home, 304 South Webster street. The patient's breathing was affected by an obstruction of the nose and the operation was necessary for the relief of the patient.

The surgeons who performed the operation were Dr. Will Chenoweth and Dr. Oscar Yarnell.

TOOK A SATCHEL FULL OF MONEY

Colored People Looking for "Worthy" President of New Lodge.

COLLECT THE DUES

Amounting to About $150 and Is not Here.

There is considerable uneasiness among many of the colored residents of this city as a result of the recent organization among them of a certain secret society, purporting to do a life insurance business.

According to statements made by several colored citizens last night some time about the middle of February three white Springfield men arrived in the city and proceeded to work up interest and enthusiasm among the colored people in regard to the new secret society which they claimed to represent. They bore with them formidable documents purporting to be from the secretary of state and other high state officials, and they soon had aroused sufficient interest to justify them in an attempt to install an order here.

On the night that the organization was effected one hundred and twenty-five took the pledge and were initiated into the mysteries of the new order.

The "Grand Worthy."

It so happened that on the same evening the "Grand Worthy" as one of the Springfield men styled himself, was present, and by a curious coincidence the order was passed out that all dues were to be paid on the opening night. When each of the 125 negroes had paid in his dues the total amounted to something over $150. The exact amount may perhaps never be known with certainty, for by a second curious happening the "Worthy President" departed for parts unknown on that same night, and he has not, according to the statements of some of the local members, been seen in the city since. It is said that there was a large handbag full of money when all the dues were paid.

While no open charges have been made the local members of the organization are carrying on an investigation. One of their number was in Springfield recently for the purpose of investigating the reliability of alleged incorporators. While the results of his visit have not been made public it is known that what he reported was not calculated to allay the fears of his fellow members.

Can't Stand Five Deaths.

"I believe, personally, that the lodge is unsound, if not a fake," declared a prominent negro last evening. "I believe it because the rate of insurance is too low. When the talk of the lodge first came up two or three of the principal colored men in the city figured the entire matter out and they came to the conclusion that if five men should die the company would break up. Only a few cents was charged per year for insurance. I understand that the rate for a $1,000 policy was only about eighty cents, which is an unheard of reduction from ordinary prices."

Another colored man, one who joined the order, said:

"Yes, I guess that I am a member, but I don't claim to be. I went that first night and paid my fees and took out the policy, but that did me I had enough of it then. I haven't been back since, and I am not going. The lodge may be all right, but I think that the rate for the insurance is too low to be safe."

Guess It Was Bunco.

"Well, they got just $2.98 out of me. I guess that it was a bunco game. I have quit the lodge and they won't get any more money out of me."

One of the leading colored citizens who did not wish his name divulged said:

"I do not know if there is any serious trouble. I am not a member, but I understand that if there is any trouble it is because that some of the members are delinquent in paying in their dues."

NEW PARK COMMISSIONERS.

Special to The Herald.

Champaign, Ill., May 27.—The park commissioners of Champaign held a meeting Friday at the office of J. F. White. Pending business was disposed of by President J. R. Trevett, who retired from the board.

The new board elected J. L. Ray president, and J. F. White secretary. The other members are Thomas Franks, S. D. Daylor and G. C. Willis.

WILL HAVE RACES

Special to The Herald.

Pana, Ill., May 27.—The probabilities are that Pana will have a race meet here about July 4. John Hawker, a well known horseman, and several other business men, are interested in the project and it looks like a go. A meeting was held Friday night to formulate plans for the meet. Only about $500 is needed by the backers to put the grounds in shape for the race, as Pana business men generally spend that amount on every 4th of July celebration it is thought that amount will be easily secured.

MORPHINE IS CAUSE OF DEATH

Mattoon Woman Commits Suicide in a Hotel in Champaign.

SHE IS IDENTIFIED

By Letters Found in Her Possession.

Special to The Herald.

Champaign, Ill., May 27.—The woman whose sudden death occurred in a room at the LaTone hotel on Walnut street at 3 o'clock on Friday afternoon was identified by the coroner's jury by a number of letters which were found in her room as Mrs. Mae Kaufman of 1108 Moultrie avenue, Mattoon. Several of these letters were written in a childish hand and revealed the fact that the unfortunate woman had a daughter, Ethel Kaufman, in school at Arthur. Others had evidently been written by a son at Kankakee who signed no name.

Coroner Penny immediately notified the daughter by telegraph, and after the jury had viewed the remains the body was removed to J. V. Sweuringen's morgue to await advice as to its disposal.

The jury, which was composed of James Busey, foreman, W. F. Alberts, J. W. Morrison, S. Hand, P. E. Murray and H. E. Weineger, met in the court room at police headquarters at 7 o'clock and after examining a number of witnesses reached a verdict that the deceased had come to her death by morphine and alcoholic poisoning.

Is Identified.

Telephone communications between Chief of Police Keller of this city and the police department at Mattoon resulted in the location of Mrs. Catherine Stull, the stepmother of Mrs. Mae Wright, alias Mae Kaufman, whose mysterious death occurred at the LaTone hotel on Friday afternoon, and in company with the dead woman's son, James Wright, of Kankakee, she arrived on Saturday afternoon.

On her arrival the police have at last solved the identity of the unknown stranger, who was last seen in her company and who represented himself to be her uncle. He is John Stull and as represented, was an uncle of the dead woman. He will arrive in this city from Mattoon at 6 o'clock this evening and escort the remains to Arcola, where Mrs. Wright will be laid to rest beside the body of her little daughter.

Daughter a Teacher.

It also developed that the daughter, Ethel, whose letters were discovered in her mother's possession, is a school teacher at Arthur. The son, whose home is at Kankakee, was visiting at Mattoon at the time of his mother's death.

Mrs. Wright had been married twice, and her first husband is expected to arrive in the city this evening.

According to the statements made by the relatives of the unfortunate woman, the latter left home on Wednesday. They knew nothing of her fate until apprised by Chief Keller's message. The dead woman was 39 years of age.

The stepmother said that the Wright woman had been living with a man named Kaufman and that she went by that name, although she had never been divorced from her lawful husband.

Dr. Westervelt reports six cases of small pox at Cambridge, Henry county, and other cases were reported to the board after the official statement was received.

ROBBED THE ROBBER.

Highwayman and Loot Held Up in Turn by Negro.

Special to the Herald.

Danville, Ill., May 27.—An old man was set upon by a big highwayman near the Chicago and Eastern Illinois yards in this city a day or two ago and robbed of his money. The highwayman ran between a cut of cars and evaded his victims.

A negro, standing on the opposite side of the tracks, saw the robbery and when the highwayman ran past him he knocked him down and took the money away from him. The negro then disappeared and has not been captured.

FUNERALS.

Mrs. Patrick Delahunty.

The funeral of Mrs. Patrick Delahunty was held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning from St. Patrick's church. The service was conducted by Father Murphy. There was a large attendance of friends. The pall-bearers were George Ashmore, Mark Walsh, P. W. Finn, William Meehan, David Valen and Miles McGonnigle. Interment at Calvary.

RUNNING SORES COVERED LIMBS

Little Girl's Obstinate Case of Eczema — Instantaneous Relief By Cuticura — Little Boy's Hands and Arms Also Were a Mass of Torturing Sores — Grateful Mother Says:

"CUTICURA REMEDIES A HOUSEHOLD STANDBY"

"In reply to your letter I write you my experience, and you are privileged to use it as you see fit. Last year, after having my little girl treated by a very prominent physician for an obstinate case of eczema, I resorted to the Cuticura Remedies, and was so well pleased with the almost instantaneous relief afforded that we discarded the physician's prescription and relied entirely on the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills. When we commenced with the Cuticura Remedies her feet and limbs were covered with running sores. In about six weeks we had her completely well, and there has been no recurrence of the trouble.

"In July of this year a little boy in our family poisoned his hands and arms with poison oak, and in twenty-four hours his hands and arms were a mass of torturing sores. We used only the Cuticura Remedies, washing his hands and arms with the Cuticura Soap, and anointed them with the Cuticura Ointment, and then gave him the Cuticura Resolvent. In about three weeks his hands and arms healed up; so we have lots of cause for feeling grateful for the Cuticura Remedies. We find that the Cuticura Remedies are a valuable household standby, living as we do twelve miles from a doctor, and where it costs from twenty to twenty-five dollars to come up on the mountain. Respectfully, Mrs. Lizzie Vincent Thomas, Fairmount, Walden's Ridge, Tenn., Oct. 13, 1905."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor, from Pimples to Scrofula, from Infancy to Age, consisting of Cuticura Soap, 25c., Ointment, 50c., Resolvent, 50c. TROUBLE OVER ELECTION

Women Under Age Vote for School Directors at Kansas, Illinois.

Special to the Herald.

Kansas, Ill., May 27.—Quo warranto proceedings were issued in the name of the People vs. Grant Sisson and Henry Augustus at Paris Friday against Joseph Perisho to force Perisho to show cause why he is a director of a school district near Contogue. Sisson and Perisho were opponents for the office of director, and Perisho was elected by a majority of one vote.

It is alleged that Jacob R. Perisho, a brother of Joseph, took his daughter to the district to vote, but it is claimed that the girl was not 21 years old and that, therefore, the vote was illegal, and that Perisho was not elected. The writ was issued by Judge Thompson of Danville and the case will be heard at the June term of the circuit court which opens here Monday.

MAYOR FEELS SAFE.

Business Men in Champaign Support Head Executive.

Special to The Herald.

Champaign, Ill., May 27.—Mayor S. A. Blaine feels confident that he has the business men of the city with him in the strict enforcement of the ordinances of the city. He has been pretty sure of that since he was elected, and through recent attempts to compel obedience of the city's laws. In order to secure absolute satisfaction, however, he has exhumed from the files of the clerk's office the following warning, sent it to the city council and read in open meeting on Tuesday night, May 31, 1904:

"We, the undersigned property owners and merchants of the city of Champaign, hereby notify your honorable body that the city will be held responsible for any damage caused by the building of bonfires or from any other violation of the ordinances of the city."

The warning was signed by forty-eight leading business men.

WILL FERRIS IS IMPRESSED

Comes Back from Texas Pleased with His Land.

HE COULD SELL IT

At a Good Price But Prefers to Hold It.

Will F Ferris of the fine department l s returned home fter a visit of three weeks in Childress county in the Texas Panhandle Here he has a large body of land and his visit was to look after his interests in that country

He is now better pleased than ever with s ch holdings there The crop prospects are encouraging and re found no trouble to dispose him Th country is said to be settling rapidly the overflow from Oklahoma going into the panhandle and in that part of the country at least the settlers will work one family to the section and that is said for every quarter section although but a small part is cultivated all through the panhandle

Could Sell It

One thing that pleased Ferris and would be a stumbling block to any non resident land owner who sells for cash is that there are opportunities to sell his land Every man in the part of the country she him if the land was for sale and said that they wanted to be considered when it was put on the market Nothing was said about price although s ries ranged from $ to $ per acre The lower figure being offered for raw land and the latter for the best farming land

Wheat fifty cents make a bushel and cotton is the chief crop There is a kind of corn raised for feed that is reasonably sure but difficult there is no cane for molasses

Irrigation is not necessary in that country Indeed the early part of the season this year was too wet and the farmers were out of their fields

It may be interesting to that the country produces the best cattle in the world The dogs are a curious study to the tenderfoot getting into the fields and running the ground by their barking

Evidently the damage that the farmers suffer on that account is not extensive for every one of them was glad to buy the Ferris land at least a section or two Even the Indians said that it was the best

Ferris like the privilege of making a trip

Prairie Dogs and Snakes

A man would not go to the Panhandle without being interested to some extent in the prairie dog in whose burrow the rattlesnake is often found Mr Ferris said that he searched for a rattler but could not find any He did find a snake known as the coach whip and killed one It was six feet long and its greatest diameter was not more than that of an ordinary broom stick The settlers say that when a rattlesnake goes into the burrow of a prairie dog the little animals at once begin to throw in loose soil to cover up the reptile and the latter will come out as soon as the first sprinkle of dirt is thrown upon him Thus the way that the settlers learn if there is a rattler in the hole if they are hunting for one They throw in a little dirt and his snakeship hustles to the surface where he gets what he is entitled to Rattlesnakes in that country however are not as plentiful as they were in the early days The settlers make war on them and have succeeded to a large measure in cleaning them out

MARRETS

FINLEY BARRELL LETTER.

By Tyler, Harney & Co, 112 East William St., Both 'Phones 352.

Chicago, May 28—WHEAT—The wheat market today has been a nervous, choppy affair, fluctuations being confined to a rather narrow range, trade being quite small and of a professional character The principal bull interest freely supported the market on weak spots while the local crowd was the principal seller on the swells The news as a whole was quite favorable but despite this fact the market displayed fairly firm undertone throughout the entire session While we can see nothing in the situation at the moment to warrant any permanent advance in prices we at the same time appreciate the fact that there are a number of possibilities which appear to favor the bull side hence for the present we would much rather buy wheat on the soft spots than sell it on the bulges

CORN—The corn market started lower on heavy receipts and selling by commission houses but soon reacted and held firm throughout the remainder of the session Strength was due principally to buying by a prominent operator and to covering by shorts who became nervous over the report that receiving houses were predicting a marked decrease in offerings As buyers of cash corn market in this market have a safe profitable hedge selling July on present basis and as we expect to experience a heavy movement from now on we continue to feel that prices will ultimately be forced much lower

OATS—Oats opened a fraction lower but soon recovered and ruled practically steady throughout remainder of the day We continue to receive reports indicating that crop has sustained serious damage which no amount of moisture can remedy We still feel that oats should be bought on every dip believing that good weather can not break them except fractionally and temporarily

PROVISIONS—Despite the weakness in price of live hog at the yards product held exceedingly firm Packers were again the principal buyers while offerings were very limited which scared in a good many local shorts Look for no decided change in either direction in the immediate future hence advise taking profits when offered
